Babita underwent training in the beauty therapist job role organized through Indian Institute of Entrepreneurship, sponsored by National Backward Classes Finance and Development Corporation (NBCFDC) under Pradhan Mantri Dakshta Aur Kushalta Sampann Hitgrahi (PM-DAKSH) Yojana, which helped her develop the skills and knowledge required to work in the beauty industry. After completing the training, she decided to start her own business as a beautician and makeup artist.

Starting a business is never easy, but Babita was determined to make it successful. She used the skills and knowledge she gained from the training to offer high-quality beauty services to her clients. Her hard work and dedication paid off, and she soon began to attract more clientele. Today, Babita earns Rs. 8000/- to Rs.10000/- per month, which is a significant achievement for self-employed women in Tripura. Her success is a testament to her determination and the value of skills training. Babita's story is also a reminder of the importance of entrepreneurship in creating jobs and driving economic growth. By starting her own business, she has not only created a source of income for herself but also provided employment opportunities for others.
